DEAN'S MESSAGE

Welcome to the Al-Karam International Institute, College of Law! Ours is an exceptional and engaged community, and I am pleased to introduce you to it. College of Law is celebrated for its brilliant faculty; it is their profound commitment to intellectual inquiry in law that sets them apart. For us, teaching is a privilege especially when it comes to the opportunity to teach first-year students. The staple of our Law College's mission is to provide students with finest legal training and the same is not possible without easy access of students to our stellar faculty, who are ever ready to guide them. Using rigorous classroom instructions and in-depth practical experiences, we are preparing our students for the practice of law in an ever-changing legal profession. We strive for a dynamic and comprehensive academic life that is enriched by the aptitudes, vitality, and diversity of our students and faculty. We have unique teaching programs which provide students with an extensive and engaging range of educational opportunities, whereas our research projects have an extraordinary breadth and depth, as reflected in our various research hubs and initiatives. We train our student to specialize in various law fields that will help them outclass other opponent lawyers in practical life, including Civil Procedure Code, Criminal Procedure Code, Constitutional law, Law of Evidence, Alternate Dispute Resolution, Corporate laws, International laws, Anti-corruption laws, Cybercrime laws, Environment laws and Space laws. When you come to study at the College of law, you will join a unique blend of student body that is intensely committed to learning of law, developing life-long friendships and professional relationships. Since the establishment of College of Law in 2011, we have always tried to figure out fresh and improved ways to carry out our mandate of legal education and research. That consequently blessed us with a remarkable legacy of accomplishments, built by timeless efforts of alumni and staff. I invite you to learn more about our College of Law through our prospectus and website. And please, don't hesitate to reach out to me directly dean@law.akii.edu.pk or schedule a visit to our beautiful campus. Many thanks for taking the time to look at us. All of us at the College of Law look forward to meeting you.

College of Law

HoD's MESSAGE

The College of Law places the maximum emphasis on research work backed by law moots which is a tool to sharpen the advocacy skills of law students. We have highly qualified faculty. College of Law focus on not only giving the young scholars the necessary tools to begin a legal career but also to add to their knowledge new vision to become a Law giver/Criminologist. College of law through its 4-year program of Bachelor of Science in Criminology program and 5-year Bachelor program BALLB aims to give this knowledge to young minds to pursue a career in judiciary, legal profession F.I.A, NAB, Police department and in anti-corruption department. Our mission is also to cultivate a new generation of law giver and Criminologist who will find the root causes of crime and its eradication by portraying the true picture of Criminal psychology and their behavior and to get them punished from the court of law. The object of Criminology is to kill the crime and not the criminal. The main goal of Criminology is to prevent the occurrence of crime, to punish the criminals and to rehabilitate the transgressors and criminals. The undergraduate study in bachelor of law relates to trial of the accused and BS Criminology is the study of crime, deviance and criminal justice system including law enforcement agencies, investigation, prosecution, court and correctional institutions.

MISSION STATEMENT

To cultivate a new generation of lawyers who will help the stagnant legal society to evolve, to match the high international standards and revolutionize the legal profession with their acquired knowledge and skills. They will not only build a bright future for themselves but will also help the country as well by providing up to date guidance to the government and the ordinary people. Suitable for industry executives, bank executives, engineers, health service professionals, public departments and educationist who seek to complement their existing degrees with a PG Diploma, B.Com or M.Com. These degrees will ensure career advancement and provide an understanding of the changing business environment.

INTRODUCTION

Law is a field, which is in a state of constant evolution, given the frequent changes in the mindsets and ideas throughout the world. Given its fluid nature, it becomes a highly competitive arena. Lawyers are expected to be highly adaptive to new situations and their problem-solving skills ought to be exemplary. These skills obviously do not come to them naturally; rather they have to be acquired through the legal knowledge gained through education. College of Law, through its Bachelors program, aims to give this knowledge to young minds, if they seek to pursue a career in the legal profession. Pakistan's legal society is large only the most hard-working and able minded prevail over the others and for them, there are no limits to what they can achieve through this profession. The extensive courses offered by the College of Law focus on not only giving the young scholars the necessary tools to begin a legal career but are also designed to add to their knowledge so that their vision increases vis-à-vis other aspects of life. Given the fact that law is inextricably intertwined with all other fields of activity. The College proposes to achieve this goal in the highest standard with the help of senior practitioners of Law who will not only teach the students but also offer their personal expertise to help them to understand law and its practice much more effectively.

HoD's MESSAGE

Pursuit of Islamic education and learning constructs a spiritual blend of ethical contribution and pragmatic response to the threats posed by modern day challenges such as stigma of terrorism and fundamentalism. The department trains the students to develop Islamic values, social morals, ethics and skills that help to play a diligent part in all avenues of life to build a cohesive, proud and sovereign nation. The syllabus thus designed fully aims at restoration of true and classical Islamic education that is the pivot of an exemplary Islamic society. Department of Islamic Studies aims to be recognized as the Islamic world knowledge hub that promotes world class research, teaching and learning environment by some highly conceptual and practical

Research programs led by an efficient faculty including as many as Seventeen PhDs for competent and efficient students. It intends to enable students to serve as truly faithful Muslims according to the pattern of Allah's Messenger and his Companions, act graciously and patiently; condemn sectarian violence and answer the tough contemporary propositions in a prophetic manner and with monumental prudence. The department tries to wipe of the innovations and unveils the innocent, flawless Islam conveyed and practiced by the Holy Prophet (P.B.U.H). The ingredients include commitment to respect, care for and serve others; an Islam secured not by attachment to communal identity but by Attachment to Allah. The department wants to develop and support harmony between different religions and sects of society and to relate to others with tolerance, respect and consideration, whatever their beliefs and attitudes may be.

MISSION STATEMENT

Produce such taught scholars for society who have grip on the tradition and may have a mature understanding of the contemporary issues with a clear and perfect skill in the modern thoughts and academic approaches.

INTRODUCTION

Modern times have brought many new challenges for humanity and especially for Muslim world. These challenges are both at home and at international level. But it is unfortunate that traditional institutions have failed in genuine contribution for the solution of prevalent problems and proper response to the contemporary challenges. Furthermore, the traditional religious institutions have created a divide in the society. The new generation educated through modern educational institutes and universities and those who are trained in Traditional religious madrassas are poles apart in their understanding of Islamic teachings and their approach towards contemporary issues too. A comprehensive course which may have merits of both of these systems can bridge the gap. The Al-Karam International Institute has established the Department of Islamic Studies with the same vision and objectives that we may produce such learned scholars for society who have grip on the tradition and may have a mature Understanding of the contemporary issues with a clear and perfect skill in the modern thoughts and academic approaches. These scholars will be able to present Islam in accordance with its real spirit before society.
